TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 8.—Trustees of the Internal Improvement fund today disposed of only about 1,000 acres of the 16,000 acres that had been advertised for sale in Dade and Broward counties. The tracts sold ranged in size from 20 to more than 100 and the prices received averaged around $50 an acre, according to J. Stuart Lewis, secretary of the trustees.

Contractor Powell is putting a bridge across North New River canal, completing a contract made originally with the Champion Bridge Company and Quinn & Powell for special road bridge district No. 11. When he gets this bridge in he will install the bridge steel at Miami canal. L. L. Hartline, who was fishing from the lock Tuesday morning, said the lake was at elevation

At 20-mile bend I left Mr. Walter's Ford car, and waited a few minutes for the McCoy line boat, the Eagle, on which I came on in to Canal Point. The current in Okeechobee road canal (called the "cross canal") was from West Palm Beach, and to Hills-

West Palm Beach Canal to the north of the canal. Water in West Palm Beach Canal at the bend is more than a foot lower than it was at the peak. In former flood periods the current in West Palm Beach Canal changed at the bend—one current running to the ocean and the other to the lake. This year the point of break of current was at the mouth of Big Mound canal, which is

Thanksgiving Reveries and Queries

Thanksgiving is the first of America's own holidays. As the earliest to be set apart its observance passed through the whole history of the nation. Like most other distinctive features of our American order of life it sprang up out of the local soil. It was at first and for many years colonial. It became national only as its observance spread from town to town, from colony to colony, from state to state.

While it has a historical interest all its own, Thanksgiving is identified with no single event, no special occasion, no definite date in history. It recalls no single act, as does "Independence day." It commemorates the name and service of no man, as do the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln. It is not shared with other peoples as are Christmas and New Years.

Day Identified With All.

The American Thanksgiving day is identified with the soil we till, for whose harvest we give thanks. It is, therefore, identified with the soil and the toilers whose illages and productive labor, inventive skill, constructive and distributive enterprise feed, clothe, shelter and develop our own people and many of those in kin in the old fatherlands across the seas. "Thanksgiving" is another and greater Labor day. It recalls and calls forth all kinds of effort by all classes of people. It merges the common product of the common toil, for the national possession of which the President and governors of the whole people call upon them to thank their Father, Creator and the good providence of the Great Provider. In thus reminding us that our harvests are the joint product of Mother Nature, the children of men and Father God, Thanksgiving is first of all the American people's expression of grateful appreciation for their "country"—its land and waters, its fertility and beauty; for our great out-of-doors nature, its response to human effort, to man's discovery and his working with natural law. Thanksgiving is, therefore, nature's harvest-home holiday.

Celebrates Entire Year.

And yet it celebrates the full round year. While held after harvest, Thanksgiving does not let us forget the seed and sowing, the plowing and the reaping, the planting and the weeding of the summer as vital to the all-inclusive process of reaping. Moreover, and above all, in this linking soil and skies, earth and the heavens, it is the Day of Remembrance of the Father of us all, as the great giver not only but as the greatest worker, with whom we may work and who works with all for the common good. "My father worketh hitherto and I work," said the greatest of the sons of God and the children of men. These reveries awaken queries. In the Chicago Daily News. They spring from the sincerest recognition and most appreciative acknowledgment that the American people are and always have been, a composite race, and that adopted citizens from many lands have done very much to make America what it is. The early history of the United States reveals five strong strands of English, Scotch, Celtic, French, Spanish and Jewish life, with not few or feeble negro traits, and toils, and some relics of Indian and old Mexican civilization. The human conquest and amazing development of this new continent cannot be accounted for without crediting much to the toll and many other enrichments of the Latin, Slavic and southeastern European immigrants. Contributions to our culture in art and philosophy and to our cultivation of the land and our commerce of the sea come from the older civilizations of China, India and Japan.

Founders of Country's Faith.

Foundations of America's faith were laid by pilgrims and cavaliers, Catholics and Protestants, each in its own way, yet all to the same great end. They are merely listed here as queries raised by our Thanksgiving reveries, their discussion being reserved for timely opportunity. Their mere statements, however, makes hold the undoubting faith and hope that these, and all other problems of American life, can all and only be solved and settled by the spirit inspiring Katherine Lee Bates' great patriotic hymn that breathes the soul of our American Thanksgiving:

O, beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
America, America,
God send this grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood,
From sea to shining sea.
O, beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved
And mercy more than life gave thee,
America, America,
May God thy gold refine,
Till all success be nobleness
And every grain divine.

Holiday of the Home.

Thanksgiving is a day sacred to the home. More of it is spent at home

OCCASIONS FOR THANKSGIVING

THAT we have bread enough and to spare for the hungry of the earth.

That our ancient order of obedience, and orderly change stands fast.

For the hope of better social understanding and just dealings.

That our great opportunities of worldwide helpfulness remain.

That the idea of brotherhood among the nations has taken root.

For the true men and women who are giving lives of service.

For leaders raised up and the opportunity of following them.

For the open door of knowledge and the desire for truth awake in men.

For joys of simple living and the unobscured saints.

For work and rest, the patience that continues, the ideals that soar.

For the love of home in all of us, and its satisfaction when it comes.

That the world is bigger than we, and the joy of adventure which it brings.

than at church. In family reunions than in public assemblies, in serving the needy, the lonely, and the homeless than in formal services of worship. Its sanctity is the thoughtful, thankful heart more than the house of worship. Who that has lived in any of our oldest colonial states, especially in New England, can ever forget, or fail to have a glow of heart at every remembrance of the real home Thanksgiving day as observed on the soil from which it sprang? At the very mention of it, with its remembrance of the long preceding preparations for it, at the old family homestead; of the leekers flying forth and back between the old folks at home and the scattered young folks in their new homes, or transient abodes; of the railway station platforms and cars thronged by merry home-bound children-of-older-grace; of children's children; of greetings at the threshold of the old farm house or village home, mingling the smiles and laughter of the living with tears or silent, sorrowing, undying yearning for "the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still"; of the bountiful laden, beautifully decorated family table, with America's fattest turkey as a "welcome home," instead of the "fatted calf" of ancient days.

National Development.

In the truest American homes the Thanksgiving family reunion is all that Robert Burns sang of "The Cotter's Saturday Night," and still more, for being more joyous, though no less religious for all that. And there are Americans, not a few, who feel deep down in their hearts for their own country what the Scotch singer sang of his: "From scenes like these old Scotia's grandeur springs."

Out of this population more wonderfully composite than constitutes the citizenship of any other nation, a very distinctive national development has evolved. It is recognized by ourselves and other peoples as distinctively our own. As such, and as a distinct contribution to the world's possessions and to the heritage of mankind, it is here, and now being considered, without any comparison with the characteristics of other nations, as better or worse.

This life-spirit of the American people is a fact, and a fact that raises these two queries at least: Is this American life or spirit distinct and wholesome enough to be conserved, developed and perpetuated? If so, how can it maintain its distinct identity and value, enriched by the accessions from abroad which are appreciated and welcomed, without being transformed, diluted, or deteriorated? These are not only fair questions, but are queries that are forcing themselves upon the more less strained attention of our people.

Thankfulness and Hope

Thanksgiving is not, at its best, what anybody says or does, but rather what he feels. And so it is, that all of us, equal members in a free democracy, are privileged to draw our inventories together, to total up the credit side of our ledger of life as one united people, and to join together in a festival of good cheer and hearty thanks for what the past has yielded; to face the future with a mutual hopefulness in what it holds in store—Farm and Ranch.

"Farce" and "Comedy"

A farce differs from a comedy in the emphasis placed on the plot. In a farce the characters are what the plot requires them to be, while in a comedy the plot is subordinated to the characters. The "Farce de Pathelin" is considered the most famous, its authorship being attributed to different persons. Generally, Pierre Blanchet, who lived in the fifteenth century, is credited with it, but some think it was written by the poet Villon.

The Transparent Male

A woman can always understand a man better than she can understand a woman. The one is simple, the other compound, arithmetic; one never can be sure how to account for the decimal. Few women can understand themselves, so no small wonder they are complex to the rest of their sex. From "Gypsy Royal, Adventuress," by Mary Mariow.

No Wealth in Oil Shales

The United States bureau of mines has conducted tests which disprove the hysterical reports that gold, silver, platinum and potash have been obtained in paying quantities from oil shales. That it is not commercially possible to recover any of these materials has been demonstrated by the assays.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"FRANK"

WHEN we say that a person is "frank" we are understood as meaning that he is candid, open in his manner and straightforward in his dealings, a meaning which, at least, in its metaphorical sense, goes back to the powerful German tribe of the Franks, the word meaning "free," or "unconquered."

The Franks were the ruling people, honorably distinguished from the Gauls and the degenerate Romans of their time by their independence, their love of freedom and their scorn of duplicity. In short, they possessed the virtues which belong to a conquering and dominant race in the midst of an inferior and conquered one. It was for this reason that the word "frank" came by degrees to mean not merely a national but a moral distinction. A man who was frank did not necessarily belong to the Teutonic tribes bearing that name, but he was one who possessed certain moral qualities—the words "franchises" and "franchisement" being derived from the same root, as is the verb "to frank," meaning to send matter through the mail free of charge.

Miss Ruby Lowe and Pearl Culbreth were visitors in Okeechobee Sunday. R. A. Conkling, county agent, came on the Eagle Monday to talk with farmers about specimens for the Palm Beach county exhibit at the Jacksonville fair. He returned on the same boat that evening.

Captain Clay Johnson stopped here Monday with his steamboat, the Okecho. He had delivered oil at Geerwood for a dredge, and came through here on his way to Okeechobee.

Mr. Carroll, of the Conners Highway organization, came up from West Palm Beach Monday to look over section of road between the bend and Canal Point and report as to how soon it probably can be opened to traffic. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. James of Enid, Okla., arrived last week, having driven to West Palm Beach, where they loaded their automobile on the steamboat Corona. They will live at Tynerville this winter. Mr. James was a pioneer in Oklahoma, having homesteaded land there. Having had that experience he is not afraid of the Everglades even in high water time.

The boat Indian River flouted a showy yellow color from bow to stern when it came here Wednesday from Moore Haven with a load of gasoline for the Canal Point Garage, local distributors of Gulf Refining Company products. Yellow is the color with which buildings, barrels and other property of the Gulf company is marked. Now the gas-carrying boat makes it unanimous.

E. R. Graham, manager of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company plantation and mill on Miami Canal in Dade county, passed through Canal Point Wednesday on his way to Moore Haven and Caloosahatchee river to study flood conditions. He has seen the Everglades from airplanes two or three times and now he is seeing the waterways at close hand.

Mrs. D. O. Lowe with the help of her daughter, Ruby, entertained Miss Lucile Wall, Lillie Johnston and Pearl Culbreth at supper Thursday evening.

MEN'S CLUB

Drainage will be discussed at the next meeting of the Canal Point Men's Club, to be held Tuesday of next week, November 13, it was decided at the regular meeting of the club held this week at the school house at which 14 persons were present. Rev. Wm. Jesse Thomas presided.

O. P. Griffin read the report of the committee on organization and nomination of officers, recommending Mr. Thomas for president, G. A. Watkins for first vice president, L. L. Knight for second vice president, Louis Goolsby for secretary and Charles R. Baker for treasurer, these officers and R. W. Windham and Howard Sharp to constitute the executive committee. Payment of $1 every three months was suggested as the dues. Because of the small attendance and in order to give full opportunity for new nominations the report went over for one week.

The chair announced that he and Paul Mansfield had guaranteed payment on behalf of the club of one half of the expense of the party the Women's Club was giving that night. The action of the committee was approved. W. A. Adams and A. L. Pope were made a committee to see about continuing of garbage collection. As unsuccessful business the chair reported that he had not received a reply to his inquiry to townspeople owners as to when they would put improvements here. Mr. Griffin having spoken of the bad condition of toilets at the school, it was suggested that the chair talk to Principal Axson about it and that the secretary write to J. J. Geiger, the school trustee.

The ravages of stock running at large having been brought up, Mr. Windham in reply to a question gave a summary of the state law. It was brought before criminal action was brought against owners of deprecating animals, that they be talked to personally and because the chairman Rev. Wm. Jesse Thomas, said he had learned to "fear nothing but God and be ashamed of nothing but sin," he was delegated for the job.

HOWARD SHARP, Sec. Pro Tem.

MISUSE OF LOCKS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Obstructions that prevent free use of canals to discharge water from farm lands is the chief cause of trouble in the Everglades drainage district, writes a man who has large information of this region. Because his letter was marked "Personal" his name is withheld. He says:

"I am particularly pleased with the article 'How to Reduce the Flood Menace.' The Earman river is shown on old maps and surveys as the 'Loxahatchee slough' and empties into Jupiter inlet with a branch into the north end of Lake Worth, now provided with a ditch through the Prosperity Farms. 'This Loxahatchee slough was, and is now, one of the principal outlets of the Everglades to the east. The overflow of the lake via Pelican Lake on the southeast shore of Lake Okeechobee, was until the building of the dikes, one of the principal outlets of the lake in flood seasons, while Ritta river and other streams on the south shore were the principal outlets on the south.' These streams flowed out of the lake and disappeared into the savanna during high water. The Palm Beach canal crosses this slough west of the rocky pine ridge which flows north to Jupiter."

"The removal of the 'peak' through the rocky cut, by cutting the canal to grade to Lake Clark (the original altitude of which lake was exactly the same as Lake Okeechobee, as shown on the Keokuk survey of 1888, and which is the shortest direct easterly route through the Everglades muck lands) would have (if the canal) properly colored and deepened to a large extent prevented any disastrous overflow."

"A familiar cut to the west via the Caloosahatchee river (the shortest westerly route to tide water) cut to grade with uniform slope, would have controlled the level of Lake Okeechobee, provided there were no locks, dams or spillways in the finished canals."

"The completion of these canals would have long since provided means for land owners to drain their fields into the state canals, at far less cost in time and money than has the present wide-spread system of canals, locks, dams and spillways."

"The removal of the West Palm Beach locks (which are within a half-mile of tide water in Lake Worth, and have never been used for transportation) would have largely prevented the recent overflow and the reversing of the current in the Palm Beach canal into Lake Okeechobee, as has occurred on former occasions."

"The St. Lucie canal, when cut to grade and all locks, dams and other obstructions removed, will largely tend to prevent disastrous overflows of the lake."

It is the glorious prerogative of the empire of knowledge that what it gains it never loses. On the contrary, it increases by the multiple of its own power; all its ends become means; all its attainments help to new conquests. —Daniel Webster.

FARM TALK

Noble Padgett, planter and merchant at Pahokee, declared the first of the week that he would be replanting some of his ground within two weeks after the water started going down. He supported his claim with the recollection that when the dike broke last year he replanted beans in 12 days after the water was shut off.

Ben Dopus on Tuesday the Everglades News on Wednesday noon that he expected to start the next day planting on section 3, which is about seven miles south of Pahokee. He said he had found 10 acres of dry land and would plant about 8 acres of it. He had his brother lost 50 acres of vegetables on their Kramer Island farm, which is not diked.

Men who have been looking over the country east of the lake and south of St. Lucie canal say they have seen land that looked as if it would do for farming this winter.

Corn Exhibit

W. G. Todd, who tends the West Palm Beach canal bridge at Canal Point, sent an exhibit of Everglades corn to the state fair at Jacksonville this week. The corn is the Cuban Flint variety and was grown on Pelican river, where Mr. Todd had three acres of it. Moonvines got into the field and broke down many of the stalks but he gathered more than 100 bushels before the field was trampled.

Coloring Cavendish

Quoting T. E. Beckwith, fruit and vegetable agent for the F. E. C. railroad, The Everglades News several weeks ago told of methods of coloring bananas. Alice E. Reed of Belle Glade writes: "The high water is making the bananas look pretty bad but the plants pulled through the time of the other flood and I think they will do it again. I tried the 'smoky lamp' on a bunch of Cavendish and it worked fairly well." Miss Reed grows the apple variety of banana as well as the Cavendish. The apple variety colors yellow naturally, I am told.

DEATH OF MRS. CROSS

Mrs. Washington B. Cross of Pahokee, whose husband was accidentally killed at Okeechobee City July 4, died at 9:30 p. m. Friday night at a Lake Worth hospital, age 57. Her funeral was held at the Ferguson chapel at West Palm Beach at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, in charge of the Rev. L. A. Wye of Holy Trinity church. Mrs. Cross, had been ill almost continually ever since her husband's death.

BELLE GLADE

BELLE GLADE, Nov. 10.—The flood shows little sign of abating very soon, it seeming to be unable to hold over a half inch drop. Two years ago, as soon as the locks were closed and without any dikes, the water began to recede and was practically off in three weeks but the lake seems to have little to do with it this time. The water, it is backing in from the Palm Beach canal and there seems to be hope for us till the water goes down more there. One week ago R. Mann and S. Kennedy were wild-bog hunting four miles up the Pahokee road and found that the water was higher, than two years ago. A few days later Mr. Kennedy was again back with one of the telephone linemen and thought that if anything, the water was higher. On the south side of the Hillsboro conditions were not so bad at first, but by the end of a week the head ditch, opening into the canal a mile east of town, had accomplished its annual stunt of flooding the back country (it is about three feet higher at the canal than a mile back) and commenced to back up into Belle Glade. Some of our men then plugged it up there, but too late. It looks as if the south side of the canal might be protected from serious damage by putting swing gates across the canals and ditches leading out of that side of the canal, but the north side is at the mercy of the Palm Beach canal, the condition of which is of vital importance to us.

The Belle Glade bridge was opened ten days ago, allowing the dredge Panama to pass through and resume work. She made about a half mile last week and is keeping residents on the north side moving buildings, machinery, etc. out of the way.

E. F. Plumb, who was called to Hartford, Conn., by the serious illness of his youngest brother, arrived there the day previous to the latter's death. He himself, is in the hospital there, recovering from an operation for appendicitis. His many friends here sympathize with him in his bereavement and are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke of Brooklyn, N. Y., are guests at the home of H. M. Walters. Mrs. Clarke is a sister of Mrs. Walters.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Collett of Bonham, Texas, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Denton, have returned to their home. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Denton, who will make their home there for the present. The brother of South Bay will control the store, which will continue under the management of Louis Betner, a former resident of this community.

OPPORTUNITIES AT CHOSEN, FLA.

We have done well here; we saw an opportunity and took advantage of it. We're not selfish—we are not only willing but anxious that others share in the opportunities.

That's the kind of people there are at Chosen.

There are openings for others, in many lines.

Come to Chosen and investigate.

OUT OF GAS ON LAKE

County Commissioners, Thos. O'Brien and party consisting of Carl E. Royer, Mrs. Royer and a traveling man, piloted by Ben Taylor, had an unfortunate trip back to Moore Haven on their return to Clewiston, Wednesday, October 23rd. Mr. O'Brien had been down to attend court, being summoned on the grand jury. Late in the afternoon he started back to Clewiston in the Nutshell. They made the trip to Lake Hilpochee without any trouble, but in the lake lost the channel. They hunted so long for it that they ran out of gas. So they stayed on Lake Hilpochee all night. A supply of gas was gotten to them Thursday and Mr. O'Brien got home to Clewiston on Friday—LaBelle Current.

CHOSEN SCHOOL

For the past three weeks school has been held on the upper front porch of Mrs. West's home, owing to the general condition of high water.

Several families have abandoned their homes temporarily and moved near the school. Others have moved out of the settlement.

Our daily attendance has dropped to 18 pupils but now that the high water is decreasing we will no doubt soon have full enrollment.

"Good Health Week" has been emphasized by apt quotations and posters made by all grades. The evening work will be known as "Poietless Week."

The big boys are contemplating putting up in the front yard a sign board to read "School, quiet, please," for the benefit of the noisy traffickers.

Our school room has also been used lately for the community Sunday school which registers an attendance of about 35.

NEW AUTO MAPS TO SHOW CANAL POINT

Big Chicago Publishing Firm
Takes Notice of New Highway Here

The automobile motor road leading into Canal Point will be shown on the next edition of auto trail maps issued by Rand McNally & Company of Chicago, leading map publishers of the United States, the manager of the map department says in a letter to The Everglades News. This road, known as Highway, will also be shown on all other maps of Florida issued by Rand McNally & Company.

Correspondents of The Everglades News having written that they could not find the town on the automobile maps, the editor of this paper wrote to the Rand McNally Company and received the following reply:

"Thank you for your interesting letter of September 28 and for the copies of The Everglades News which arrived under separate cover.

"On account of the fact that the roads were in such bad condition in your district we did not deem it wise to show Canal Point on previous editions of our Auto Trail Map of Florida. However, now that there has been considerable improvement we are glad to inform you that these data are on our 1925 plate, which is on the press now."

"There is a great awakening throughout the southern states to the value of good roads and it is quite a task compiling and tabulating information coming in daily from our own field organization, State Highway Associations, Chambers of Commerce, etc. As a consequence we have added greatly to our staff of the various departments entering into the manufacture and publication of Auto Trails Maps so that we can take care of our clients in the southern states and give them an up-to-date map that is as accurate as it is possible to make and sell at a reasonable price.

We appreciate your co-operation, Mr. Smith, for it is this fine spirit of helpfulness that enables us to carry on our work of giving the motoring public an Auto Trails Map that will render real dependable service."

HENDRY VOTES ON BONDS

A bond election will be held in Hendry county November 20. There are two propositions, one to vote $430,000 for roads and the other for $100,000 for a court house. The Chamber of Commerce and the newspaper support both propositions.

NEW LOCATION FOR REAL ESTATE FIRM

Consolidated Realty Company
Has Offices At 316 East
Clematis Avenue

The Consolidated Realty Company of West Palm Beach is now occupying offices at a new location in that city, having moved last week. The old location was 223 Clematis avenue, on the north side of the street, in the Jefferson Hotel block. The new location is 316 Clematis avenue. Residents of the Lake Okeechobee region should look up the new location when next they are in West Palm Beach and familiarize themselves with it. They may want to call there or direct a friend to the new location.

The owners of the Consolidated Realty Company are I. G. Atwell, Harvey F. Noble and F. J. Andersen. They own and handle on commission ocean frontage, groves, citrus, residential and residence properties and also own several large tracts of Everglades muck land. The members of the firm have studied the Everglades carefully and are very friendly toward this region.

Like every one else who knows the Everglades, they know that the present water is a temporary condition and that this is probably the last overflow of the kind the country will ever have. In this belief they continue to pay particular attention to Everglades lands as buyers and sellers on their own account and on listings at the new location they will have the same exceptional facilities for handling all classes of real estate business.

PEOPLE WE KNOW

H. J. Chapman, manager of the Okeeland Corporation, lands, wrote under date of October 18 directing that the address to which his paper is sent be changed from 911 North Court street, Ottumwa, Iowa, to 25 Currier Greenway, West Palm Beach. He adds: "I am coming home and will see you soon."

Lester Cowan, who went to Miami last month when the high water came up at South Bay, wrote from South Bay under date of November 5: "I am staying with the stuff so change my address from 101 N. E. 21st street, back to South Bay. There is a little of the high water being kept, probably 100 acres of beans will be picked soon in this immediate neighborhood. The Schering and Thomas nurseries have been dried and are being pumped."

TOM O'BRIEN ELECTED
An effort in the western part of the district to defeat Tom O'Brien, Democratic nominee for county commissioner from the Clewiston district, failed. He got 94 votes to L. H. Johnson's 74.

AROUND THE LAKE

Mrs. Katherine Geiger, who had visited her brother, Ludwig Franz, at South Bay, passed through Clewiston Monday on her way to her home at Stanton, Ill.

R. B. Waldron of Bare Beach returned to his home there Monday after a visit to Tampa and Orlando. He and his brother Julian had in about 100 acres of vegetables when the high water came up. He is undecided whether to wait for the water to go down there and replant or try to find some land on East Bay or elsewhere. He was farming state land at Bare Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Gum, who live near Lake Wales, passed through Moore Haven Monday on their way to Krameter Island, where he is a partner with W. N. Turner and John H. Beach in a trucking and avocado development.

Success Means Hard Work

The genius of success is work; the man who will not work more than eight hours a day will not get anywhere. Discovering never made a man out of a two-legged lazy creature. That is why so many men are miserable. Notwithstanding a common belief to the contrary, money and living are generally in partnership.—John C. Sullivan, Boston.

STATE FAIR EXHIBITS

Exhibits of Everglades products can be made at the state fair at Jacksonville if shipments are made by express on Tuesday, R. A. Conkling, the county agent, said this week when he visited Canal Point to call on farmers who had promised exhibits. A car will be loaded at West Palm Beach for shipment to Jacksonville before this notice appears in print, hence the plan of shipping delayed specimens by express. Shipments should be marked "For Palm Beach County Exhibit, State Fair, Jacksonville, Fla." with the name and address of the shipper.

Losses Seed Potatoes

The Stewart Fruit Company of No. 3 East Pratt street, Baltimore, Md., lost 1200 bushels of seed potatoes at Moore Haven, David B. Stewart, Jr., the secretary of the company, said one day recently when he passed through Canal Point. For the account of customers they had a lot of seed potatoes on hand and were looking for a place to put them with growers. Mr. Stewart stopped at points in North Carolina and North Florida and came on to Tampa without finding a deal. On his way home he stopped at Orlando and information he got there led him to turn back and go to Moore Haven. He liked the looks of things and had 2400 bushels shipped down for planting, intending to have more sent later. The 1200 bushels that were not placed with Moore Haven farmers were in a warehouse when the overflow came. Mr. Stewart didn't know what he would do with them.

Book About Avocados

A correspondent at South Bay writes: "In an article on avocados in The Everglades News you quote Wilson Pope's 'Manual of Tropical and Sub-Tropical Fruits.' Can you tell me where I can get this and the price?" Other readers may want to know the answer, too. The book is published by the Macmillan Company, New York City, N. Y. It is one of the series of 'The Rural Manuals,' edited by Professor L. H. Bailey, who, I think, is with Cornell University. My copy is of the 1920 edition and was bought in Miami at Sewell's store or a store near by. The price is $5. The United States Department of Agriculture publishes bulletins on avocados that are sent free. Address, Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

THE THOROUGH MAN

WE WHO by habit are inclined to trifle away our time should give close attention to the thorough man and strive to emulate his worthy efforts. Give heed to him as he confronts his task in the morning, whether it be at the anvil, behind the counter, at the desk or at the head of a great industry.

Observe the decisive directness with which he approaches his duties, equipped mentally and physically to drive ahead at a gait that is maintained until the close of the day.

He knows what he wants to do and does it without hesitating.

He is every inch a thorough man. He knows it and those about him know it. He untangles obstinate skeins, settles disputes and goes through stone walls without blinching. He permits nothing to annoy or disconcert him. His "yes" and "no" cut to the core, but they never exhibit anger.

About the only emotion he shows is his intensity of purpose, which in some subtle manner stirs the most phlegmatic soul within his presence to renewed activity.

He weighs his acts before he sends them out to do his bidding, and he finds as a result no needless fear of the outcome.

Never disinclined to learn he is ever studying new ideas, getting new slants on old problems, absorbing suggestions between starting points and the goal he visualizes in the distance.

At his first shot he may miss the mark, but he comes back with a larger quiver of arrows, a stronger bow and keeps shooting until he scores a clean hit.

He does not scold wrongdoers when they frankly repent, but rather praises the moral courage that admits the truth. This is the thorough man who knows his duty to himself and others, who achieves and attains while the irresolute look on ashamed. If you ask him, he will tell you that his will-power and patience and endurance are given him by "faith in the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen."

Old English Custom

A modern custom was left for execution. Upon such an occasion the judge was entitled to a pair of white gloves. A modern session of the English court of assize at which a prisoner is tried is known as a maind assize, and it is customary for the sheriff of the county to present the judge with a pair of white gloves as a symbol of the innocent character of his administration.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR DUCK HUNTERS

Ross' Winne on Torrey Island Has New House and Plenty of Good Boats

Duck hunting for the season that opens November 20 will be as good as average on Lake Okeechobee, and it may be even better, and the lake is all region. Hunters come singly and in parties from both coasts, and for the whole period of the season they find good sport.

Guides and hotel keepers are prepared for the opening of the season and sportsmen will find accommodations all around the lake better than in former years. Ross Winne, who has lived on Torrey Island at the south end of the lake for 12 years and is well known as a guide, has completed a two and one-half story house, 25x30, with 10 rooms, for the special accommodation of duck hunters. The house has six bed rooms. It is located within 30 feet of Winne creek and is on high land.

Torrey Island can be reached from West Palm Beach by automobile to Belle Glade or Chosen or by boat from Clewiston or boat from Pahokee by way of Clewiston. Having 15 boats, Mr. Winne can take care of all hunters who come by themselves or hunters who come in parties. It is better if a reservation is made, but he will arrange to take care of all who come, even if they come unannounced. Mr. Winne's post office address is Chosen, and there is a telephone line to Chosen from West Palm Beach.

"Whether duck hunting is an expensive sport or not depends on how much money one has and how he looks at it. Mr. Winne's charge is to be $1 a night for lodging and $1 for each meal. The total will be $15 for a hunter who comes in at night and has supper and lodging and breakfast and a boat and guide next day with meals. In that time, however, he will get all of the ducks the law allows and as much sport as his constitution will stand.

CORONER'S JURY IN ASHLEY CASE

Killers of Outlaws Are Exonerated—Sheriff Merritt Fired No Shots

FORT PIERCE, Fla., Nov. 8.—A few minutes after the second coroner's jury to investigate the killing a week ago tonight of John Ashley and his band of three, had retired this evening, it returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Incidentally, Sheriff J. R. Merritt, Sr. and Lucie county, swore on the witness stand during the hearing that he did not fire a shot in the killing of the outlaws.

After the testimony had been heard, each member of the former jury testified as to the conduct of the bodies of the four dead men, killed at Sebastian river bridge, and all the facts that had come to their attention. W. L. Fie, under-keeper here, is said to have reiterated statements that he discerned no visible marks of hand-cuffs on the wrists of the four. Each of the officers who participated in the occurrence then was called, beginning with Sheriff Merritt, who explained that when the shooting took place he was busy procuring handcuffs to place on the men.

Other deputies who testified were Deputies H. L. Stubbs, Elmer Padgett, L. B. Thomas and O. B. Padgett of Palm Beach county, and C. E. Wiggins and Smith of Fort Pierce. Sheriff R. C. Baker and Elmore Cohen, court reporter, also attended from West Palm Beach.

At the conclusion of the known testimony, Mrs. George Kleinbaum, Hanford's sister, arose from the audience and asked to be heard. Following her statements, Mrs. J. W. Ashley, John's mother, and Mary Mobley, Hanford's mother, also were heard. They wanted the bodies of the four exhumed.

Attorney Otto Adams of Fort Pierce, who represented the families of the dead men, and Attorney C. D. Abbott of West Palm Beach, and County Solicitor Dame of Fort Pierce, then argued before the court on Attorney Adams' contention the former jury should not have been discharged. Judge Sumner ruled that it was up to the jury if it wished to obtain further evidence and to have the bodies exhumed. But the jury decided it had sufficient evidence.

Good Breed of Dog

The schipperke dog got his name from being so frequently seen on canal barges of Belgium, where he makes a good "watch" and is used oftentimes as an exterminator of rats. Doubtless this breed is in some ways related to the "wolf spitz" of central Europe. He is covered with glossy, straight, black hair, and the whole of his neck and breast is covered with an erect frill of longer hair.

Agricultural Country

Only 10 per cent of India's population of 310,000,000 are supported by industrial pursuits, while 74 per cent are supported by agricultural and pastoral activities. The existence of civil marriage there is declining at a rapid rate, and the increase in population has been only 1.2 per cent in ten years.

High water and his illness will delay improvement that L. N. Simon of West Palm Beach had planned for his West Palm Beach property. In a letter written from West Palm Beach and dated November 6, Mr. Simon says: "I just arose from bed to answer your letter. Yes, I had a program for this winter, but I question if my health will permit the undertaking; besides, if it may, I am not sure that water conditions will permit—that of street paving sidewalks."

"I have been indisposed for about two weeks, most of the time in bed, however, not sick, so speak. The doctor gives me strict instructions to be absolutely quiet while making a rest in the meantime I take much pleasure in reading. The Everglades News, I admire your courage to continue and your determination to tell the truth about the Everglades and all other things else. No course, however, ingenious, can or will beat the truth in the end. You and The News are both of them. I read everything in The News, complete. Hope conditions out there will steadily improve and that my condition will permit going ahead with the Canal Point improvements."

Legend of Unicorn
Medieval conception of the unicorn as possessing great strength and fierceness may have been partly due to the fact that in certain passages of the Old Testament it is mentioned (translated in the authorized version unclean) refers to a two-horned animal, savage and quarrelsome, subdued to gentleness only at the side of a virgin. The idea of purity is included in the significance of the unicorn used in many coats of arms.

Pine Tar and Honey Still Best for Chest Colds and Coughs

Our mother and grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house for coughs, chest colds, etc. This was many years ago, but modern medicine has never been able to improve on this time-tested remedy. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to get, but quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion that are the actual cause of the cough. At the same time pine tar and honey soon soothe and heal all irritation and soreness. The food that has been used with never-failing success in thousands of families for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This is a scientific compound of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients. It is the best dietetic food found to aid in quick relief. It contains absolutely no opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs, so can be given to young children—fine for asthmatic croup, etc. It does good. If you want the best, a medicine that offsets the aggravated cough overnight, be sure you get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It costs only 50¢ at any good druggist's.

UPPER GLADES IS ONE GREAT LAKE

brought down so much water from the high flatwoods country; for two weeks the current's place of change was there, 8 miles west of 20-mile bend and 12 miles east of Canal Point. Tuesday morning there was very little current there, water seeming to be at a standstill. Statement of the condition of Conners Highway is made elsewhere. Between the bend and Canal Point some land was seen—the only land out of water, except canal banks and streets, I saw on the whole trip. It was a little patch on the north side of the canal a bit west of the concrete mile post 30, one of the posts put in by the Everglades drainage district to show the distance from Lake Clark near West Palm Beach.

As interesting a thing as I saw was that the high water was working all kinds of weeds except sawgrass—new crop of sawgrass was coming out. That is one of the worst features of the flood—it kills the weed with roots that help break up the soil and it aids the growth of the sawgrass which has a poison in its roots. To keep sawgrass down the waters must be kept down. I have seen cultivated fields at Okeelanta and Moore Haven lost to sawgrass several times. It isn't that the sawgrass is so bad—it's the high water. With drainage there will be no sawgrass; with no sawgrass, where will the water go? It will be kept down. Acres of Remaining Crops

On the train that went from Clewiston to Moore Haven Monday were 20 farmers of beans that were shipped from South Bay to New York by T. Hill, who lives on the Kastenhoven farm. Holland's Colonies

Holland has in her colonial possessions a population of 30,000,000—more than seven times as large as that of the mother country. The most valuable of her possessions is Java, famous for its coffee.

Active Volcanoes
Between 600 and 700 volcanoes have been counted in various parts of the world, and of these 270 are still on the active list. Vesuvius was at least for over 2,000 years before it suddenly woke up and in a few hours destroyed Pompeii. Etna is known to have been active as far back as 500 B. C. In 1180 it destroyed 15,000 people, since when at varying intervals it has been the scene of a number of disasters.

High English Cliffs
Beachy head is one of the highest of the English cliffs. Its summit is 664 feet above the sea. The Welsh coast has several cliffs higher than Beachy head. Holyhead is 710 feet and Great Orme's head 678 feet. St. Catherine's cliff, Isle of Wight, beats all these. It is 830 feet high.
